Riccardo Zucca – Master in European Studies in Investor Relations and Financial Communication – EY

“This event was a unique opportunity to broaden my professional network, gain new knowledge and get practical advice from industry experts. In the role of Student Angel for EY I was able to explore the different career opportunities within the company, and more. I had access to training workshops, CV review sessions with industry experts and had the chance to speak directly with experts, sharing valuable information on career prospects and required skills.”

Luca Da Ros – Master in Management – La Posta Svizzera

“Being a Student Angel provides the opportunity to closely interact with professionals, support them in their needs, and build a strong bond with them.”

“Building the future: not behind the scenes, but on stage with the company.”

Polina Poliakova – Master in Digital Fashion Communication – Hugo Boss

“It was a great pleasure to meet and spend the whole evening full of valuable insights with the company representatives of Hugo Boss. Definitely one of the most precious moments of my studies so far!”

Federica Pozzoni – Master in European Studies in Investor Relations and Financial Communication – Intesa Sanpaolo

“In the role of Student Angel, I got the change to explore the bank’s reality from an even closer prospective, getting invaluable insights on the career opportunities and making the most out of the experience of such talented professionals. The event brought together an impressive array of companies under one roof. It was an incredibly way to expand my professional network and gain valuable insights into various industries.”

Tito Baragiola – Master in Finance – UBS

“I am deeply grateful for the opportunity of serving as a Student Angel for a company such as UBS. It was an honour to meet experts coming from numerous remarkable Swiss and global firms, sharing perspectives and useful information regarding future generations in the Swiss banking sector.”
Matilde Donegana – Master in Marketing and Transformative Economy – Dsquared2
“The opportunity to be a Student Angel provided me with a direct encounter with the company and an opportunity to engage with them. It was an enriching and stimulating experience”

Rossana Sorrenti – Master in European Studies in Investor Relations and Financial Communication – Moody’s Investors Service
“I applied to become a Student Angel as I believe it is a great opportunity to get to know the reality of different businesses, to actively seek advice for self-improvement and gain valuable insights into various career paths.”

Metehan Dündar - Master in Computational Science – CSCS
“It provided me with the opportunity to closely interact with many companies. I would describe it as a "night of opportunity to take the first step in your career.”

Giulia Guglielmi – Master in Informatics – Bloomberg
“I am grateful for the chance to engage with various companies and gain a better understanding of the job openings available and the process of applying. I found the 'job gallery walk' to be a valuable initiative, as it provided a concrete way to explore the daily tasks of a profession and evaluate if they align with one's expectations.”

Francesca Anna Maria Salvatore - Master in European Studies in Investor Relations and Financial Communication - PKB
“One of the things I enjoyed most about my experience as a Student Angel at the 2024 Long Night of Careers was definitely the networking opportunities. Having the opportunity to meet professionals from different fields and exchange ideas with them was a key part of the event. It was exciting to connect with people who are already where I hope to be one day, and to see how I can follow a similar path.”