Declaration of academic honesty

I hereby declare that I accept the principle of academic honesty, and I pledge to USI that I will draw up by myself all works that I have to write during my university career, in particular those to be handed in for the award of the relative diplomas, except for the quotations, the sources of which I undertake to cite exhaustively.

This pledge means that no part will be copied, either from scientific publications or from documents on the Internet, including multimedia sources, or from other works already presented in academic contexts, by me or other students.

I declare that I am aware of the sanctions foreseen by the study regulations in the case of plagiarism and that I am aware of the civil and penal consequences which I would risk in the case of violation of the afore - mentioned regulations.
